One of Oldest Women in City Passes Away.

Miss Cary Ann Brasher died at her home on North Virginia street Wednesday afternoon, aged 83 years. Death was due to chronic bronchitis, her advanced age being contributory. The deceased was a daughter of the late Larkin T. Brasher and a sister of Judge L. T. Brasher. She was a member of the Universalist church and was a lady held in the highest esteem by all who knew her.

The interment took place in Riverside Cemetery Thursday afternoon.

WORK DELAYED

But Bridge and Dam Are Nearing Competition.

Work on the Second street bridge was suspended this week for three days. The west pier is done and the East pier lacks about 8 feet of being finished, about one day's work for the concrete crew. The dam and both wings are done, except that the iron gate is to be placed in the floodgate, through which the water is now flowing. This will be the last thing done. The two small piers to hold up the approaches to the bridge are yet to be built. One has been started. The iron bridge has been shipped by the Vincennes Bridge Co., but cannot be put up until the concrete work is finished. This will take another week of work days. The fills on both ends of the bridge have been started but cannot be pushed much until the bridge works are further advanced. A row of Carolina Poplar trees has been planted in the new raised bank on the West side, which are expected to hold the bank as soon as they take root. A row of Sugar Maples has been set on the East bank, 30 feet from the stream, for a distance of 300 feet.

HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Bond of $500 Has Not Yet Been Executed.

The examining trial of Claud Proctor, of Hopkins county, charged with the larceny of some copper wire from the Empire Coal & Coke Co., was held before Judge Knight and the prisoner was returned to jail to await the action of the grand jury. Bail was fixed at $500, but Proctor has not as yet furnished bond.

THANKSGIVING

Union Services Were Held At The First Baptist Church.

Thanksgiving Day was well observed in Hopkinsville. The weather was bright and crisp and nothing marred the pleasures of the day. "Big dinners" were the rule and nearly all of the business houses were closed at least a part of the day.

Union services were held at the First Baptist church and the attendance was large.

Prof. Davis A. Clark read the proclamation of the Governor as a feature of the program.

The sermon was preached by Rev. E. B. Landis and it was an able and exceedingly appropriate address.

A collection was taken up for the poor.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now alright, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time. You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today.

Of Interest to Book Lovers.

This is an age of books, and every intelligent reader feels the need of keeping informed on the best among the thousands of new volumes that come from the press every year. The wisest way to do this is to subscribe for a good metropolitan newspaper that prints daily reviews of the most important books as fast as they appear. THE CHICAGO RECORD-HERALD is generally conceded to be the leading literary daily west of New York. It gives more attention to books than any other Chicago paper, treating them as a legitimate theme of everyday news and covering the whole range of current literature as if it believed books were actually as interesting to its readers, as, say, the pork market or the latest murder. Its literary department, under the editorship of Edwin L. Shuman, is undoubtedly the most complete and the most ably conducted in the West. Mr. Shuman's literary judgments are eagerly sought by authors themselves and are quoted all over the country, and so are those of his able corps of skilled assistants. Walter Littlefield's weekly news letter from New York keeps THE RECORD-HERALD readers informed on all the forthcoming books of importance, and his summary of all the leading magazine features at the beginning of each month is very valuable. Naturally persons of literary tastes prefer THE RECORD-HERALD to all other Chicago morning papers.

OBJECTED TO "COW MUSIC"

Swarming Bees Showed Good Taste and an Appreciation of What is Correct.

Cow music was never intended for bees, and Capt. George Sinclair of the North Side police station and Patrolman J. A. Larson, both expert bee trainers, proved it beyond dispute the other day when a hive of bees swarmed from a hive on the station roof.

Musical or any noise that will distract the attention of the queen bee is supposed to be the best agent for settling a swarm of bees. Captain Sinclair was a piper in a company of Queen Victoria's Highlanders, and so when Larson told him the bees were swarming he grasped his bagpipes and went to the station yard.

The old ballad "When the Kye Come Home" was the air the captain selected. As the people rushed from their houses to hear the pipes the bees settled as predicted by the captain, but they mistook the limb of the law for the limb of a box elder the captain had eyed during the performance and settled on Larson. The bees clinched their hold and the stingers didn't stop at mere garments.

A change in the program failed to relieve the situation for Larson. By shaking himself vigorously, imitating as nearly as possible the motion of a tree branch when shaken by a beekeeper, Larson induced the bees to go into the hive.

Ammonia, hartshorn and other antidotes for bee stings decorate the mantel shelf in the Larson home today.—Minneapolis Journal.

ORDERLINESS IS BIG ASSET

Will Pay Well to Teach Children the Habits of Neatness, System and Order.

To teach children habits of neatness, system and order, says Orison Swett Marden in an article in Success Magazine, is to insure some degree, at least, of success. Yet they are often brought up amid disorder and confusion, allowed to throw things down just where they use them, and to form slovenly and slipshod habits. They are not taught to put things where they belong, and consequently they grow up shackled with handicaps which they can rarely throw off.

If there is any delusion in the world, it is that doing "things just for now," dropping things wherever one may happen to be temporarily saves time. On the contrary, this is a great time waster and a great demoralizer of character. A bad habit not only tends to repeat itself, but to increase the tendency in that direction.

If you were not taught the beautiful lesson of orderliness in your youth, teach it to yourself now.

TEACHING POLICEMEN TO THINK.

New York's coppers are undergoing a system of education. Not only are they being taught to wear white collars without affording a realistic impersonation of a fat man choking to death, but they are required to keep their uniforms clean and neatly pressed, their gloves unsoiled and their shoes spotless. And more than that, Commissioner Waldo is trying to break through the mental crust grown by years of carelessness and sloth and get from them something more than a purely physical performance of duty.

"We're trying to teach them to think," said a high police official. "And when a man has never thought twice on the same street since he won his badge, it is a rather difficult job."—New York Letter to the Cincinnati Times-Star.

HIS VIEW.

Willis—Do you think a man should be allowed to hold the highest honor in the United States more than four years?

Gillis—Sure thing! I say, if a man can top the league in batting for ten or even fifteen years, let him stay in the game for the good of the sport.—Puck.

DINNER TABLE OF THE KING

Laying of the Board for George V. is Attended With Very Considerable Ceremony.

The laying of the royal dinner table is of necessity attended with a good deal of ceremony.

First come the "upholsterers," whose duty it is to see that the table is in its proper place, and in good condition to bear its precious burden of gold and silver plate. The weight of the famous Flaxman service, designed for George IV., is so tremendous as to justify fully this precaution.

The upholsterers, having seen that all is in order, give place to the "table-deckers," who arrange the snowy napery, worked with the royal arms, and the plainly folded serviettes. Fanciful shapes are inadmissible on the royal table. This accomplished, there enter the "yeomen of the silver pantry," whose task it is, as their name indicates, to place the silver in position. The "deckers" then arrange the flowers, thus putting the finishing touch, after which the royal table is considered "well and truly laid."

POSSUM FARMS OF VICTORIA

Big Ranches in Australia Where These Animals Are Raised for Their Fur.

One farm exclusively for breeding opossums has been started in Gippsland, Victoria, which comprises 2,000 acres of eucalyptus bush land. Another farm comprising 500 acres has been started in southern Tasmania and another of 150 acres in New South Wales. The chairman of the Sydney stock exchange has become much interested in the possibility of commercial breeding of opossums for their fur, and expects to start a large farm for this purpose near Sydney.

In Western Australia there seems prospects of a company being formed for the breeding of possums in a stretch of eucalyptus country comprising about 200,000 acres. Many instances are also being reported of farmers in various parts of Australia taking up the breeding of opossums as a special feature of their farms, in this way using timbered sections of their land which would not have much value for any other purposes.—Consular Reports.

HE NEEDED A SECRETARY.

Dugan is one of the best engine drivers on the road, but like many another "old-timer," he is much bothered by the multiplicity of reports which the modern order of administration compels him to write out.

Recently he took over, as his seniority in the service entitled him to do, one of the big runs, and was very proud. But before long a cloud began to show itself on his usually tranquil brow.

"What's the matter?" a cronny asked him. "Don't the new run suit you?"

"Not very well," answered Dugan, gloomily. "I've had it three weeks, and I'm six months behind with me correspondence a'ready."—Youth's Companion.

LAUGHING DOWN A WHINER.

"The bluff, cheery optimism of the late Senator Frye," said a Lewiston divine, "could not brook a whiner."

"Once at a dinner here in Lewiston, a whiner seated opposite Senator Frye said dolefully: 'I have only one friend on earth—my dog.'"

"Why don't you get another dog?" said Senator Frye.

WEALTH IN WASTE PAPER.

In the treasury department at Washington, D. C., two women are designated as waste paper examiners. The contents of all waste baskets pass through their hands. Every scrap of paper is examined and sorted. Last year the department realized from the sales of its waste paper $19,000.

HANDICAPPED.

Knicker—What were the wild waves saying?
Bocker—They didn't get a chance to say anything; my wife was in bathing.

EVER CHANGING.

Knicker—What do you think of New York?
Bocker—Every time I come the sky line and waist line are different.

INTERESTING EVENTS IN CHICAGO

NINETEENTH NATIONAL IRRIGATION CONGRESS

DECEMBER 5 TO 9.

The object and purpose of this Congress can best be expressed in its motto, "Save the forests, store the floods, reclaim the deserts, make homes on the land," to which might be added "drain the swamp and make homes on the land."

There are in the United States 75,000,000 acres of swamp land, non-productive, a menace to health, and a deterrent to immigration. 75,000,000 acres divided into 40-acre farms means homes for 1,875,000 families, or approximately 10,000,000 of our citizenship. This land when reclaimed will be as healthful as land that has always been dry, and will be the most productive of all lands, because it is composed of the rich soil brought down by the rivers, deposited and mixed with the decayed vegetation for centuries.

On account of the diversified ownership and state complications it would seem that the United States Government is logically the authority to redeem these lands along the lines pursued in the reclamation of the arid lands of the West.

The results of irrigation of the arid lands of the Far West, and the possibilities of the drainage of the swamp lands of the Great South, and elsewhere, will be given particular attention in an elaborate program that has been planned for this congress. Delegates from all parts of the country, as well as foreign representatives, have been invited, and a very large attendance is expected.

Land Show, Nov. 18 to Dec. 9.

An ocular demonstration of the agricultural and horticultural development of lands throughout the United States. An attendance of over 400,000 is predicted this year. Be sure and visit the Illinois Central Exhibit of products grown in the two great southern states of Louisiana and Mississippi.

LONG LOOKS.

A bon mot of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth's circulated in Newport last month.

Mrs. Longworth was conversing at a luncheon with a rather stout matron. The matron condemned the bathing dresses worn by young women at such places as Ostend and Dieppe—those shockingly tight, skirtless suits such as men would hardly dare to wear at home.

"No, I don't like them," said the stout matron, decisively. "They are immodest. Besides, they make people look shorter."

"On the contrary," said Mrs. Longworth, "I think they make people look longer."

FISH INTOXICATED.

The fish in the River Dill at Dorlar, England, have recently been behaving in a very curious fashion. Some of them were swimming backwards, others sideways, and others up and down—all in such different ways as to suggest they were drunk. Investigations showed that they were, as a matter of fact, badly intoxicated. The explanation is that the alcohol from an adjoining yeast factory had been thrown into the river, and in such great quantities as to have a demoralizing effect on the river's inhabitants.

BREAKING A WISDOM MONOPOLY.

"I'm afraid the country suffered a great loss when they failed to send our eloquent and able friend back to congress."

"Not at all," replied Senator Sorghum. "The sense of the plain people again prevailed. Why should the lecture platforms be robbed that the brainy men may be assembled to listen to one another, where instruction is superfluous?"

A USE FOR IT.

The Lady of the House—But, Mr. Jims, I can't see any possible use for this little closet tucked away where nobody could ever find it if they wanted it.

Architect (brightening)—My dear madam, that closet was designed for the express purpose of accommodating the family skeleton.

LOCUSTS HARD TO KILL.

Two species of locusts periodically become serious plagues in South Africa—the red-winged locust and the brown locust. For the past few years the governments of the South African colonies have made a united effort in the destruction and study of these pests, and it is computed that in Natal alone last year a loss of over $1,250,000 was prevented by the exertions of the locust officers. If the summer is a dry one the locust eggs may be an indefinite length of time in hatching, but a period of three years' "suspended animation" he been found insufficient to kill the germ, which has ultimately hatched out a healthy insect. Thus it is no easy matter to exterminate an insect which has such tenacity of life.

BOY'S PECULIAR DEATH.

A peculiar street-car accident, which occurred lately in Syracuse, N. Y., was responsible for the death of Ferrand Hale, seventeen years old. The boy started to cross the street as a slowly moving car, followed by another car, approached. The first car slowed down almost to a stop and when Hale reached the tracks the second car was close behind. A fuse blew out on the first car and it came to an abrupt stop and then shot a few feet backward. Hale was struck by the rear of the first car. Then the cars came together and he was crushed to death between them.

SORE ABOUT IT.

"Bull fights are brutal things, don't you think?"
"Do I? Didn't I lose my last cent in Wall street?"

SURE THERE.

"Was there ptomaine in your party ice cream?"

Prohibition Conference.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 1.—Political eyes in Tennessee are turned on the conference of the friends of prohibition, called by Gov. Hooper and now in session at the State Capitol. In his call, Gov. The Rev. Irl R. Hicks 1912 Almanac.

Before the great Drouth of 1901, the Hicks Almanac gave timely warning. For over two years prior to 1911, the Hicks Almanac again sounded a warning of drouth danger. And so for forty years this same friend of all the people has steadfastly refused the offers of speculators and continued to warn the public of the coming dangers of storm and weather. As they should have done, the people have nobly stood by Professor Hicks, their faithful public servant, who has grown old in their service. Sixth Kentucky District Congressman Says They Would Sweep Country.

Washington, Nov. 29.—A Washington paper locally today quotes former Representative J. L. Rhinock, of Covington, as favoring the nominations of Judson Harmon and Ollie James for President and Vice President next year. According to this paper, Rhinock believes that this ticket would sweep the country, although he has a suspicion that James would prefer his six years in the Senate to running on the ticket with a man prescribed by William J. Bryan.

ROBERTS AND WEAKS

Snatch Victory From Defeat
In Closing Game Of Season.

H. H. S. 12, PRINCETON 0.

Heavier Team Beaten a Second
Time in Fine Game on a Muddy Field.

The football season was closed Thursday with another brilliant victory for the High School boys. The contestants were the Princeton High School lads defeated earlier in the season. Since that time the team had been wonderfully strengthened and the game was hard fought all through. In fact the Princeton team was aggressive and came dangerously near to scoring on two separate occasions. In the first half the advantage was clearly with the visitors and it was only by superior training that a score was prevented in the second quarter, when the locals hardly held the visitors far down and kicked out of danger none too soon. No scores made. In the third quarter the locals struggled like demons in the west end of the field, covered with mud and frozen underneath. Here as before they secured the ball just in time to punt to the center of the gridiron. The Princeton boys growing more confident, resorted frequently to the forward pass and in one of these Roberts, the little end, caught the ball, dodged the only Princeton man close at hand and darted like a flash for the goal 90 yards away, this time over the grassy field, where the foothold was better. Hotly pursued, he felt the fingers of the pursuer scratching his back, but when six feet from the goal he made a dive and barely pushed the ball across. Green kicked goal. In the last quarter, this play was repeated by Weaks, the other end, who ran across the muddy end of the field for a shorter run and Green again kicked goal, the games closing 12 to 0 in favor of Hopkinsville.

Roberts and Weaks, the little heroes who won the game, were borne out of the field on the shoulders of the cheering crowd.

The season ended as it began with a victory.

100 to 2.

On last Monday the Bethel College football team went to Adams, Tenn., to play the High School team of that place. The game proved a "very fast one." Bethel winning 100 to 2. This was advertised as a foot-ball game but proved to be "a slaughter of the innocents." During the game Bethel scored seventeen touchdowns and Whatley kicked fifteen goals, making in all 100 points. The H. S. boys made their 2 points on fluke.—Russellville Democrat.

31 to 0.

With seven thousand spectators gathered on Dudley field yesterday afternoon from every state in the union, the royal purple of Sewanee was trailed in the dust by the husky sons of Vanderbilt by the decisive score of 31 to 0.

It was simply another case of where the Tigers were outclassed at every department of the game, with the possible exception of punting.

Vanderbilt demonstrated superior team work, knowledge of the game speed, aggressiveness on the offense and what hurt most, they outweighed the Tigers about ten pounds to the man.—Nashville Tennessean.

Haydon, Secy., returned Thanksgiving morning from a Directors meeting in Evansville, Ind., having secured the location of the New Photo Copying and Enlarging House of their company in Hopkinsville, to be operated under contract with the company by Mr. Bowles in his private studio, on 9th street, business starting December 1. Mr. Bowles' force of practical photographers to be increased as the business of the company may demand it.

Mr. Bowles' studio is already equipped with his new Photographing Lamps, and everything is ready and in position to turn out and finish all classes, and sizes of the finest photograph work to be had in the South. The company will reach out for business all over the South and West, through traveling and local salesmen, in every town, and hamlet in the country, and expect to make their plant one of the most important industrial institutions in the city.

The field for this new line of business is practically unlimited, as no other house in the country makes a specialty of life size photographs, enlarged directly from small pictures, giving to the people a perfect photograph enlarged to suit their demands, furnished with or without frames.

The company will make nothing but photographs, and will handle the business of other photographers merchants, manufacturers, coal mines, contractors, church societies, lodges, schools, colleges, private homes, and families, and make only the finest grade of photographs, turning out post card, cabinet, or life sizes, from copies furnished it, and will make them in any quantities desired, and run the plant day and night should it require this to handle the business promptly.

The reputation of Mr. Bowles as a high classed photographer is already extensively known and under his direct supervision the new house of the company should at once step into a large and lucrative business, and by the means of advertising our city and attract thousands of new people here each year from all sections of the South and west, and the Kentuckian wishes the new plant great success.

We beg to refer our readers to the advertisement of the company in this issue for salesmen which should interest hundreds of people in this line of business, in every town and community in the country.

PORTABLE HOUSE

Belonging To Vaughan Bros.
Is Burned at Bennettstown.

A portable "shack" belonging to Vaughan Brothers, turnpike contractors on the Lafayette road, was burned Wednesday at a loss of $150. It was by the side of the road near Ellis Thomas' farm, near Bennettstown, where it had been since work was suspended. It was used for sleeping quarters, but was not occupied at the time. Mr. Thomas and his hands attempted to put the fire out, but could not save the shack, though they kept the fire from setting on fire another shack containing oil and dynamite. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Henderson, Ky., Dec. 1.—The matter of converting the Seabee Springs property into an assembly grounds, where chautauquas, camp meetings, Bible conferences and the like may be held, has gone far enough to announce that the deal will go through.

He says that owing to its central location in this section of the state that it is a splendid and convenient location for the holding of assemblies, chautauquas, camp meetings and the like.

A Change Coming.

In correcting the exercises of her class a teacher recently observed a new name inscribed on one of the papers—Will Evans. She looked round the class, but could see no new boy. Not a little puzzled she requested Will Evans to stand.

Up jumped Will Jones, and the teacher got more puzzled still.

"Your name's Jones," she said, "not Evans!"

Will looked not a little abashed, and shifted uneasily from one foot to the other.

"Please, ma'am," he said, "it's owing to family trouble. I didn't do it, please, ma'am."

"But," she said sternly, "I repeat, your name is Jones."

"Please, ma'am," said the boy, "it's changed now. Ma's married the lodger!"

Feared the Worst.

A South Dakota railroad is noted for its execrable roadbed. A new brakeman was making his first run over the road at night and was standing in the center of the car, grimly clutching the seats to keep erect. Suddenly the train struck a smooth place in the track, and slid along without a sound. Seizing his lantern, the brakeman ran for the door. "Jump for your lives!" he shouted. "She's off the track!"—Success Magazine.

Pretty Dirty.

Once a year the newsboys of London are given an outing some place on the Thames river where they can swim to their heart's content. As one little boy was getting into the water his little friend said: "Johnnie, you're pretty dirty!" "Yes," replied Johnnie, "I missed the train last year."—Success Magazine.

NOT DESIGNED FOR GOOD MAN

Mother Said She Would Do Her Best
With Baby, but Feared It
Wouldn't Avail.

Ever observe what attention a baby on a train attracts? Everybody smiles and chucks it under the chin, provided, of course, the baby doesn't howl.

On the way from Atlantic City, a charming young mother sat in a Pullman chair, playing with the baby that smiled and cooed all the way home. Among the others in the car who were fascinated by the baby was an elderly man, who deliberately sat down in the opposite chair and opened a conversation with the mother.

"Certainly a splendid youngster, madam," said he. "You ought to be proud of it, and I have no doubt you will do your best to make him a good and useful man."

"I'll do my best, sir, but I'm afraid it will be to no avail," she answered meekly.

"Oh, pshaw! Why so? Why so?" he demanded.

"Well, you see, sir," said the mother, now radiant with smiles, "nature has taken the exactly opposite view, and has designed this baby to become a strong and beautiful and charming woman. She's a girl."—Philadelphia Times.

KILLING RATS IN JAVA.

A consular report gives the following method of destroying rats adopted by M. de Kruyff of the agricultural bureau of the Dutch Indies at Buitenzorg, Java. All visible rat holes were first stopped with earth to ascertain which holes were inhabited, for the inhabited holes were found reopened on the following day. Half a teaspoonful of carbon bisulphide was poured in each of these holes, and after a delay of a few seconds to allow the liquid to evaporate the mixture of vapor and air was ignited. The result was a small explosion, which filled the hole with poisonous gases and killed all the rats almost instantly. A pound of bisulphide is sufficient for more than 200 rat holes; 131 dead rats were found in 43 holes which were opened after the operation. It is further stated that satisfactory results in exterminating porcupines have been obtained by this method.

NEW KIND OF CHICKENS.

It's a poor kind of child that can't keep its elders guessing—and chuckling. The normal child, indeed, can say more things in a day than the said elders can absorb in a week, and the juvenile "funny" comes out in the most unexpected places and manners and is frequently all the more effective for being unwitting and unconscious. So with the little city boy whom Bishop Frederick Burgess once described as spending much of his first visit to the country in looking at the hens.

"Have you never seen chickens before?" some one asked him.

"Oh, yes, I've seen 'em," the child made answer, "but never before they wuz pecked."

TOO FAR BACK.

"See here, Rastus," said the new arrival at the hotel, "do you mean to tell me that this egg is fresh?"

"It was when hit was laid, suh," replied the waiter.

"And when was that, pray?" demanded the guest.

"Ah dunno, boss," replied Rastus. "Dis yere is mah first season at dis yere hotel, suh."—Harper's Weekly.

Terrible Train of Troubles.

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fournier, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before I took Cardui, I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patients or courage. Since taking Cardui, I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to, and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.

Killed Yellow Coon.

Glasgow, Ky., Nov. 29.—Bryant Scott, a farmer who lives on Clay Lick Creek, in Metcalfe county, killed a yellow coon which he encountered near the home of Stewart Cuffey. So far as is known this is the first yellow coon ever captured or killed in this section of Kentucky. People who reside in that section claim that a colony of yellow, or white coons have made their home there for years. The yellow coon killed by Scott is slightly larger than the ordinary coon and had an extra fine coat of fur, the color resembling the fluff of a buff chicken. Fur dealers offered Mr. Scott a fancy price, considering the quotations on coon hides, for the yellow coon pelt, but he declined to sell until he can investigate and find out about his prize.

BEST WAY TO IMPROVE IT

President Grant's Suggestion Concerning Stream for Which an Appropriation Was Asked.

General Grant has left behind him no reputation as a humorist, but he had a dry wit, nevertheless, which was perhaps the more effective for being seldom used. Ex-Senator Depew of New York has related one instance of its use.

When Grant was president a delegation went to Washington to see about getting an appropriation for dredging a certain stream. They called on the president and tried to interest him in the plan.

"Let's see," said Grant, reflectively, "didn't I cross that stream in such and such a campaign, just before we fought such and such a battle?"

"You certainly did, Mr. President," said the spokesman of the delegation, hopefully.

The president was silent for a moment. Then he said:

"I remember that stream; but I think you're going the wrong way about to improve it. Why don't you macadamize it?"—Youth's Companion.

BOILING MICROBES.

"The germ theory, thanks to the study of hygiene in the schools, is familiar even to our children," said Dr. Charles T. Aikens, president of Susquehanna university, in an address at Selinsgrove.

"Two little Selinsgrove urchins played in their mother's kitchen the other day while the cook boiled some water. Hearing the sound of the boiling, they drew near the gas range.

"What is in that pot?" said the first urchin.

"Water," said the second. "Just water."

"What is the sound I hear, then, brother?"

"Sister, it is the microbes crying."

A DISAPPEARING TYPE.

Mrs. E. H. Harriman, at a dinner in New York, said of the begging letter nuisance:

"I am overwhelmed with begging letters. I received 5,000 begging letters before I started on my recent western trip. It isn't unusual for me to receive 100 begging letters a day.

"And most of them are from men. Women have a finer, bolder spirit than they used to have. The clinging, babyish type of woman is disappearing—the type of woman, I mean, who writes begging letters, and who, if married, has for her motto:

"Laugh, and the world laughs with you. Weep, and you get what you want."

TOO IMPATIENT.

"No," said the clerk in the drug store, "we haven't got that; but—" "Oh, I don't want something else that is just as good," the would-be customer interrupted.

"I wasn't going to offer you something just as good. What I started to say was that if you didn't watch out you'd have your elbow on the fly paper—there! You've gone and got yourself stuck to it!"

Sale Of About 60,000 Pounds
On Loose Floor---Quotations Unchanged.

In spite of the inclement weather and the disorganization resulting from the holiday Thursday, tobacco sales were held both Wednesday and Friday, on the loose floors. The offerings amounted to about 60,000 pounds and there was but little improvement in the character of tobacco offered. Only the lower grades are coming in. The prices are still very satisfactory, considering the offerings, there being no perceptible change from last week. All of the warehouses expect to hold regular sales from now on.

Dog Adopts Pig Into Family

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 29.—The scientists in this section are "sitting up and taking notice" of some very peculiar circumstances recently brought to light. Mrs. Colby T. Jenkins, a lover of pets, has had an unusual one thrust upon her in an uncommon manner.

In hog-killing season Mr. Jenkins, a wealthy farmer, found that a Berkshire sow had been killed, leaving behind her two tiny pigs. These he promptly brought to his wife, wondering how to provide for them.

Mrs. Jenkins had successfully raised colts, calves and even pet rabbits on milk administered through bottles, and served via nipples, and her husband felt that she could surely help him out of this dilemma.

The pigs were put under an out-building while the thrifty housekeeper was trying "to find a way," when, to their utter amazement, they discovered that the family dog, who had a litter of pups, had already solved the problem for them. She was fostering one of the sucklings, the other one dying.
